STATE LIFE CAFÉ & CANTEEN

SOCIAL PHOTOGRAPHY DECK | 1:1 • 4096 × 4096

FRIDAY EVENING

Arrival / Approach

A familiar corner, reimagined.

The approach introduces the café as a bright civic pause within State Life Building 01. The tiled portal, colour-coded counters and mature urban landscape make the intervention immediately legible.

Intent: introduce the project through context and arrival. Keep architecture on the right third, with the urban approach and sky establishing place.

SUNDAY EVENING

Front Elevation

Distinct, yet familiar.

A clear façade hierarchy separates café and canteen functions while a shared material language ties them together. Burgundy, blue and warm yellow make ordering points easy to read without losing the building's institutional character.

Intent: communicate design clarity, identity and material contrast. The façade remains the hero; people provide scale rather than becoming the subject.

TUESDAY EVENING

The Courtyard

A space to pause.

Behind the service frontage, the courtyard becomes a shaded social room: open, calm and connected. Existing structure, new seating, planting and warm light work together to create an everyday place for conversation and coffee.

Intent: show experience and occupation. Seating and people sit around the lower thirds while the stair and canopy frame the space.
